Park back championship was the lirst to take the ring. In this class appeared Cornine and Petroleum, entered by Mrs. Grosvenor, and Sportsman, entered by Mr. Sprafiev. Corinne was ridden in a great way by Mr. Tommy Ryan Domailly had the mount on Petroleum, and Mr. Spratley rode Sportsman. It will be remembered that Petroleum won the championship here last year, and later won the same honor in the garden. I could see nothing in this class but Corinne, a mare amongst a thousand: Sportsman showed bid sampers, and Petroleum was not in the less of bumops. Championship went to Corline at geserve to Petroleum, Mrs. cest of humors. Championship went-vinue and reserve to Petroleam. Mrs. Jenor winning hoff, honors. Twas Nip and Tuck.

In the champion class for horses in harness there appeared but three aspirants for honors—Mrs. Grosvenor's great Rosebery, a horse of great size and exquisite finish; Mr. John K. Branch's great-going small mare Migonnette, and Mr. David Dunlop's Chief II. Domally drove Rosebery to a blue and red gig, Mr. Smith drove Chief II. before a blue and browing in and Mr. Branch drove Migonnette before a black gig with basket rail. The class was red hot, and the judges were up against a pretty stiff proposition. The question was—whether Roseberry was a greater type of big horse than was Migonnette a greater type of small horse. The decision became so close that the judges got up to drive. Hoth Migonnette and Roseberry went better than at any time during the show. The crowd took a lively interest in a brush twee around the wheels of the two jigs locked, but no damage was done. It was a class to stift the blood and make the heart beat quick. sight sucressive jumps four feet six inches high.

Mr. Holloway, on Beck, made nearly a perfect performance, having only one light to to his credit. The horse went well and in excellent form.

Mr. Holloway rode Freelance, with three raps. The horse went well. No other horses came to the scratch. I asked Mr. Smith why he had not entered, and he told me that his string was worn out and not fit to go.

Beck was awarded the championship, and Freelance the reserve. Mr. Holloway rode both splendidly.
